

1. Authors

Stephanie Sodero

Sociologist

A Killam Postdoctoral Fellow, Stephanie Sodero researches crisis mobilities at Lancaster University's Centre for Mobilities Research and the University of British Columbia's Liu Institute for Global Issues. Stephanie completed her doctorate in Sociology at Memorial University (Canada) under the supervision of Dr. Mark CJ Stoddart (September 2011-July 2015). Stephanie has more than ten years of applied and academic experience in the field of transport, focusing on disaster resilience, carbon pricing and demand management and has published in Mobilities, Canadian Journal of Sociology and Environmental Sociology.

Projects with the Forum

Mobility systems in a context of global warming and natural disasters: toward greater resilience?

Publications with the Forum

Mobility systems in a context of global warming and natural disasters: toward greater resilience?

Stephanie Sodero