How can mobility be 'good' for both socio-economic development and the individual growth of young people? What factors foster or hinder such beneficial mobility, and is international mobility desirable for all?

These are the topics for the 2018 MOVE Day Conference in Sogndal, as part of the H2020 MOVE research project.

Researchers from six European countries (Norway, Luxembourg, Hungary, Romania, Spain and Germany) have been working for three years with young people (aged 16 – 29) that cross borders to find work, vocational training, studies, volunteering, and entrepreneurship.

The conference will focus on the key results from the project on a national and European level. We would like to invite researchers, practitioners, students and experts to Sogndal to exchange ideas and perspectives about internationalisation and youth mobility in Europe. Program

Detailed program will be announced later.
